5. Indemnities for Officers and Members

- 5.1 The purpose of an indemnity is primarily that officers and Members should not be deterred from seeking public office or participating in outside bodies or carrying out special roles by the personal liability they might incur while acting on behalf of the Council.
- 5.2 Councils customarily nominate Members and officers to a number of outside bodies which include private companies, organisations owned by various authorities for example LGSS or the Children's Trust and a range of other organisations.
- 5.3 Members and officers will act as directors, trustees, members of the management committees of outside bodies and/or otherwise play an active role in the affairs of the body in question, often because such bodies' constitutions require the Council to nominate officers or Members to act in such capacities.

- 5.4 Those who act as directors, trustees or members of the management committee owe various statutory duties and/or fiduciary responsibilities to the outside body(ies) in question. For example, a company's director owes a duty to the company which he/she is a director, and a trustee has the fiduciary responsibility and liability to use the trust assets according to the provisions of the trust instrument.
- 5.5 In certain, very limited circumstances, they may be personally liable for the debts of the bodies on which they serve, or in relation to third party claims brought against those bodies.
- 5.6 Many outside bodies are companies which enjoy limited liability. Generally speaking, the directors of such companies will be personally liable only in exceptional circumstances, such as for deliberate or reckless breach of trust or knowingly causing the company to act beyond its powers or to trade whilst insolvent.
- 5.7 Company directors, trustees or members of the management committee can generally avoid personal liability by being careful to take appropriate professional advice before making decisions and/or by hiring other people to manage some of their responsibilities on a day-to-day basis for example, an accountant may file a company tax return however, officers and Members acting as such remain legally responsible for the discharge of their duties.
- 5.8 Council Members or officers appointed to act as directors, trustees or similar positions in outside bodies are exposed to different risks arising mainly from their role and nature of the body in which they act. For example, in the case of a trust, they may be liable (without limit) if they deliberately or recklessly take actions in breach of trust or without having taken appropriate advice; or in the case of a limited company, they may be personally liable for the company's business liabilities and be fined, prosecuted or disqualified as a company director if they do not discharge their directors' responsibilities. Officers and Members maybe concerned about the personal liability that may be attached to them from performing their duties.
- 5.9 In addition, from time to time the Council is required to make special appointments or assign special responsibilities to officers and Members which exposes them to additional risks of personal liability under a separate statutory or regulatory regime such as Returning Officer or Electoral Registration Officer. These two roles have been specifically provided for within the proposed Indemnity.
- 5.10 It is not in the Council's interests to deter potentially suitable candidates from seeking election to the Council or seeking appointment to responsible posts supported by the Council because of concerns over possible personal liabilities. This report therefore recommends that the Council confirms the well-established practice of Councils giving an indemnity in respect of such risks as it lawfully may to both officers and Members.

- 5.11 Although there is a statutory form of protection under Section 39 of the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976 for individual Members and officers in respect of claims from third parties for acts and omissions committed whilst a Member or Officer is conducting council business, this does not afford protection where other than Council business is being conducted.
- 5.12 In order to fill the gaps identified above, the Council effects insurance cover under a professional indemnity policy. This gives protection to both the Council, and to individual Members and officers in respect of claims resulting from their undertaking Council business. The insurance policy also covers Members and officers specifically appointed by the Council to an outside body.
- 5.13 There is specific statutory power to effect such insurance under the Local Authorities (Indemnities for Members and Officers) Order 2004 (the Order). However, that policy does not cover officers appointed to an outside body and required to act independently.
- 5.14 Furthermore, notwithstanding the existence of insurance cover, where a Member or officer is sued personally in respect of a matter in which he has been involved on behalf of the Council, he or she may still need to incur expense in defending the proceedings if for example insurers decline to take over the conduct of the action because they believe it is frivolous.
- 5.15 The Council's indemnity is designed to avoid such problems by underwriting individual Members' and officers' potential liabilities, though only to a limited extent in relation to Members and officers serving on outside bodies.

6. The Wording of the Proposed Indemnity

- 6.1. The proposed wording in Appendix 1 to this report, makes clear that:
- a) the Indemnity would not apply to deliberate or reckless breaches of trust, any deliberate wrongdoing or recklessness, nor for the avoidance of doubt in respect of Members or officers serving on outside bodies in their private capacities.
  - b) Officers and Members serving in a fiduciary capacity on outside bodies should be covered by the indemnity.
- 6.2. The proposed wording recommends that the Council's indemnity should cover the costs in defending Members and officers against criminal and civil proceedings arising from activities carried out on behalf of the Council. However, it is subject to the officer or Member having acted honestly and in good faith and not from his/her deliberate or reckless wrongdoing.

7. Implications (Including Financial Implications)

7.1 Resources and Financial

- 7.1.1 There are no resources or financial implications arising from the proposals in relation to interim arrangements
- 7.1.2 There is a small financial implication in relation to the possible payment of excess if a claim is made for which the indemnity is given. However, based on the experience of predecessor authorities, it is expected that claims against this indemnity will be rare. In most years it would be hoped that the actual call on the indemnity would be nil, but it would in theory be possible for substantial claims to be made on it.
- 7.1.3 However, it is important to note that the granting of indemnities does not in and of itself create new risks. The indemnities envisaged in the report are for activities that council officers and Members already undertake and the council is therefore insured against many of these risks, which limit the council's possible exposure to any single insured claim to its excess.
- 7.1.4 It is recommended that the Chief Finance Officer be authorised to decide on a case-by-case basis whether it is appropriate to pay any sums upfront for the defence of criminal proceedings and recover the sums in the event of a conviction or await the conclusion of such proceedings before making any payment. It is suggested that there is a need for discretion to ensure flexibility, fairness and proper expenditure of Council funds.

7.2 Legal

- 7.2.1 The Shadow Authority has obligations under the Order and associated legislation to make arrangements for the successful operation of the new Council. This includes the operation of the new Council during the Interim Period.
- 7.2.2 Section 112 of the Local Government Act 1972 enables the Council to appoint staff, and such officers "shall hold office on such reasonable terms and conditions, including conditions as to remuneration, as the authority appointing him think fit". Therefore, an implicit power to indemnify or insure them as part of their terms and conditions of employment.
- 7.2.3 Prior to the enactment of the Local Government Act 2000, the powers of local authorities to indemnify Members and officers in respect of claims brought against them personally were severely limited mainly because of the case of Burgoigne -v- London Borough of Waltham Forest. In this case, the High Court indicated that local authorities could not indemnify Members and officers against personal liability for acts committed outside the powers of the local authorities in question.
- 7.2.4 Section 101 of the Local Government Act 2000 changed that position by conferring power on the Secretary of State to make an Order to provide authorities with the ability to indemnify their members and officers in respect of personal liabilities incurred in connection with their service on behalf of their authority. It is under this power that the Indemnities Order already referred to was made.

The Indemnities Order

- 7.2.5 Article 5 is the key provision in the Indemnities Order. It states that an indemnity may be provided in relation to any action, or failure to act, which is (a) authorised by the authority or (b) forms part of, or arises from, any powers conferred, or duties placed, upon a member or officer, as a consequence of any function being exercised by that member or officer (i) at the request of, or with the approval of the authority or (ii) for the purposes of the authority.
- 7.2.6 Article 5 also makes clear that an indemnity may be given whether or not, when exercising the function in question, the member or officer does so in his capacity as a member or officer of the authority. Therefore, an indemnity can apply to powers or duties being exercised by Members or officers when carrying out functions pertaining to outside bodies not connected with the Council, as long as the functions in question are being exercised at the request of, or with the approval of, the authority or for the purposes of the authority.
- 7.2.7 Article 6 of the Indemnities Order prevents the provision of an indemnity (or securing of insurance) in relation to criminal acts, any other intentional wrongdoing, fraud, recklessness, or in relation to the bringing (but not the defence of) any action in defamation. An indemnity may, however, be provided in relation to the defence of criminal proceedings.
- 7.2.8 Article 7 makes clear that an indemnity can be given in relation to actions which are beyond the powers of an authority, provided that the member or officer in question believes that the action, or failure to act, is within the powers of the authority.
- 7.2.9 Article 8 provides that any potential indemnity given against the costs of defending any criminal proceedings must contain provisions for the repayment of sums expended by the authority or the insurer if the Member or officer has been convicted of a criminal offence and that conviction is not overturned following any appeal.

7.3 Risk

- 7.3.1 There are no significant risks arising from the proposed recommendations in relation to the interim arrangements. In relation to the indemnity for Members and officers on outside bodies there may be a risk of third party. The Indemnities Order specifically prohibits local authorities from indemnifying their Members and officers in relation to deliberate wrongdoing or recklessness, and also charities are specifically precluded from buying insurance against deliberate or reckless breaches of trust by charity trustees.
- 7.3.2 It is proposed that appointments of Members and Officers should be reviewed to ensure that they continue to be appropriate but in the meantime Members and Officers should be afforded insurance to provide them with protection whilst that review can be undertaken. The risk of a claim is felt to be relatively small and to be covered by the Council's insurance policies.

7.4 Consultation

7.4.1 The arrangements set out in this report reflect the duties of the Council as set out in the Structural Changes Order or as otherwise set out in the Constitution. The Constitution was developed by a Task and Finish Group with wider consultation also undertaken.

7.4.2 There has been no consultation in relation to the proposed Member and Officer Indemnity, however the nature of the indemnity is consistent with Indemnities provided by local authorities.

7.5 Climate Impact

7.5.1 There are no specific climate implications

7.6 Community Impact

7.6.1 The successful operation of governance and decision-making arrangements is essential to ensuring the proper oversight of service delivery during the interim period.
